Radiation detection and measurement pdf file 2016

Jukka Lehto has written a textbook aimed at introducing new students to Nuclear and Radiochemistry (NRC). PDF formatted file (version 1.61 Feb2017) (previous version). Content (the EPUB-links are currently dead, put will be made active in the future) The History of the Research of Radioactivity (EPUB) The Structure of Atom and Nucleus Stability of Nuclei (EPUB) Radionuclides (EPUB) Modes of Radioactive Decay (EPUB) Rate of Radioactive Decay (EPUB) Measurement of Radionuclides (EPUB) Gamma Detectors and Spectrometry (EPUB) Measurement of Radionuclides (EPUB) Gamma Detectors and Spectrometry (EPUB) Gas Ionization Detectors (EPUB) Alpha Detectors and Spectrometry (EPUB) Liquid Scintillation Counting (EPUB) Radiation Imaging (EPUB) Statistical Uncertainties (EPUB) Nuclear Reactions (EPUB) Production of Radionuclides (EPUB) Isotope Separations (EPUB) Studies of energy-transfer phenomena, track physics and microdosimetry are also of interest to the journal. Applications relevant to the journal, particularly where they present novel detection techniques, novel analytical approaches or novel materials, include: personal dosimetry (including dosimetric quantities, active/electronic and passive monitoring techniques for photon, neutron and charged-particle exposures); environmental dosimetry (including methodological advances and predictive models related to radon, but generally excluding local survey results of radon where the main aim is to establish the radiation risk to populations); cosmic and high-energy radiation measurements (including dosimetry, space radiation effects, and single event upsets); dosimetry-based archaeological and Quaternary dating; dosimetry-based approaches to thermochronometry; accident and retrospective dosimetry (including activation detectors), and dosimetry and measurements related to medical applications. Review articles are periodically solicited by the Editors. The journal aims to publish papers containing substantial novelty and scientific impact. The journal publishes original papers on both fundamental and applied research. The journal seeks to publish papers that present advances in the following areas: spontaneous and stimulated luminescence (including scintillating materials, thermoluminescence, and optically stimulated luminescence); electron spin resonance of natural and synthetic materials; the physics, design and performance of radiation measurements (including computational modelling such as electronic transport simulations); the novel basic aspects of radiation measurement in medical physics. The Editors reserve the rights to reject, with or without external review, papers that do not meet these criteria. This was part of the FP7 project CINCH-II. The book is only available electronically, either in E-PUB or PDF format: E-PUB formatted file (version 1.61 Feb2017). Written by Jukka Lehto (2016) for NucWik and free use. Please note that rejected papers will not be considered when resubmitted in any form, or to an alternative Editor.
